Dear applicant,

Thank you for your interest in the Electoral Reform Society and the position of Chief Executive.

The Society has existed since 1884 and has a proud history of campaigning for political change in the UK and beyond. Today we are dedicated to opening up our politics and helping to create a country where no votes are wasted, where every voice is heard and where our democracy is fit for the 21st century.

We believe politics can be better than it is and work to bring about change, to this end we have worked to establish ourselves as the go to commentator on constitutional and democratic issues and helped put electoral reform back on the agenda after the 2011 Referendum.

We are looking for a chief executive with passion, integrity and drive to help us pursue our agenda. The person we are looking for will balance an in depth knowledge of UK politics and the spaces it happens within, with an understanding of how to form and execute successful campaigns. We are looking for an individual who can help nurture and develop our exceptional staff team both in London and in the other nations of the United Kingdom, which will include a focus on diversifying our income.

An inspiring media performer, our new Chief Executive must balance developing the most effective campaigns and messages with the needs of a membership organisation helping us implement our strategy to 2020 but also develop what will come after. Between now and 2020 we will expect our Chief Executive to help us build alliances, win policy pledges and deepen public involvement.

To apply please complete our application form, including specific examples of how you meet the highlighted points on the person specification, as well as a short cover letter of no more than one page reflecting on how you think the cause of electoral reform can be advanced over the course of this parliament.

Please email your completed application and cover letter to:
kate.west@electoral-reform.org.uk by 5pm on 5th July 2017.

Yours faithfully

Jon Walsh
Chair
BACKGROUND NOTE

The Electoral Reform Society is the UK’s leading voice for democratic reform.

We work with everyone – from political parties, civil society groups and academics to our own members and supporters and the wider public – to campaign for a better democracy in the UK.

Our vision is of a democracy fit for the 21st century, where every voice is heard, every vote valued equally, and every citizen is empowered to take part. We make the case for lasting political reforms, we seek to embed democracy into the heart of public debate, and we foster the democratic spaces which encourage active citizenship.

We have recently completed a strategic review for the period 2016-20, which has established our three core objectives:

1. To build alliances for electoral reform. That means securing commitments to voting reform in party manifestos, backed up by significant increase in public support.
2. To deepen public involvement in our democracy. That means winning a UK-wide constitutional convention, alongside deeper citizen involvement in devolution and where power lies.
3. To win policy pledges to build a better democracy. We want to see party commitments to an elected House of Lords, votes at 16, a registration revolution, fair boundaries, party funding reform and a democratic devolution settlement.

JOB SUMMARY

Are you an inspirational leader with a passion for politics and democratic reform? Do you have what it takes to lead the campaign for building a better democracy in Britain?

The Electoral Reform Society is looking for a new Chief Executive to lead the organisation in achieving its strategic objectives. Our current Chief Executive, Katie Ghose, leaves the Society in great shape after nearly 7 years, during which she led a successful transformative programme that has positioned the ERS as the ‘go-to’ democracy organisation in the UK. We are looking for a leader who can build on her work, to inspire and support our team in developing new ideas and practical policies to strengthen British politics, and to continue to build the Society’s reputation as the UK’s leading voice for democratic reform, shaping democratic debate at all levels.

This is a full-time role, with flexible hours and some weekend and evening work may occasionally be required.
JOB DESCRIPTION

Job title: Chief Executive

Location: Central London

Job purpose: To lead and direct the ERS by overseeing the design and delivery of the Society’s strategic objectives and achieving maximum impact and profile for our work.

Main duties and responsibilities:

Duties include:

• Present the Board with short, medium and long term strategies, proposals and plans that further the Society’s mission
• Ensure delivery of agreed strategies and policies achieve maximum impact within approved budgets
• Oversee the design and delivery of an ongoing programme of high impact campaigns activity including topical publications and events
• Lead and direct senior managers to develop, deliver and co-ordinate short, medium and long term campaigns and research programmes that further the Society’s mission and achieve organisational objectives
• Increase the ERS’s national profile among journalists, key political institutions in England, Scotland and Wales, a wide range of civil society organisations, private and public sector bodies and among our members and supporters

MEMBERSHIP, COMMUNICATIONS AND OUTREACH

Duties include:

• Act as chief spokesperson for the organisation on a variety of public platforms including national media and at key ERS events
• Create and consolidate relationships with key individuals and organisations with a special focus on Ministers, Shadow Ministers, key parliamentarians, national journalists, leaders of relevant civil society organisations and think-tanks and other high profile individuals
• Lead an engaged and vibrant member and supporter programme
• Ensure the ERS has a clear external brand, with consistent messages, effective arguments and impactful use of evidence

FINANCE, GOVERNANCE AND RISK

Duties including:

• Ensure that the Board is supported in performing its governance role, including:
(i) providing an appropriate flow of information between staff and the Board, including information on major risks, upcoming external developments that could affect our strategic direction and reporting on key targets
(ii) providing other support as required, for example, ensuring comprehensive induction for new Board members, networking opportunities and training/development
(iii) regular meetings/communications with the Chair and Vice Chair and acting promptly to fulfil actions from these discussions

- Ensure good and efficient information flow including regular reporting on organisational KPIs
- Oversee preparation of the ERS annual budget, risk management and legal compliance

LEADERSHIP

Duties including:
- Lead and line manage the senior management team (SMT) and chair SMT meetings
- Oversee management of all staff, premises, financial and other assets of the Society
- Maintain a collaborative, democratic management style
- Ensure that members of the SMT from Scotland, Wales and England work collaboratively and effectively to maximise the Society’s impact

ORGANISATIONAL ROLE

Duties including:
- Oversee a structured programme of organisational development
- Contribute to the intellectual capital and development of the ERS via team meetings, blogs, staff meetings and planning/away days and by supporting colleagues as required.
- Undertake administrative and ‘back office’ tasks as required, including supporting events, operations and media
- Support and comply with the Society’s Equality and Diversity Policy
- Undertake other related duties as required to assist the Society in meeting its objectives
